PCA Club Racing's West Coast Series presented by TraqGear and Coolshirt nears halfway point as drivers are in midseason form

Columbia MD— PCA Club Racers competing in the West Coast Series presented by TraqGear and Coolshirt received a slick T-shirt in recognition of their campaigning in the series, in addition to earning all-important series points when competing at Buttonwillow this past weekend.

With five weekends in the series left competitors in the West Coast Series will be looking to Laguna Seca next as they strive towards earning a Coolshirt Club System featuring a TraqGear shirt. Competitive fields of Spec Boxster, SP911, GT3, GT4, GTC5, GTA2 and SP1 drivers have provided entertaining action in competing for the podium. Each class remains just about anyone's to win at this point, so every last race weekend in the series will be critical in determining who takes home the hardware.

All series participants competing at the remaining race weekends to be held at Laguna Seca, High Plains Raceway, Thunderhill Raceway, Miller Motorsports Park and Buttonwillow Raceway will receive the participant T-shirts as a keepsake from the weekend. The race weekend at Miller Motorsports Park may be one of the last opportunities to race at the facility as it's future is uncertain.

PCA Club Racing is fueled by racers and volunteers.
